Students will finish for half term on Friday the 23rd of May and return on Monday the 02nd of June.

As you can see, May is an extremely busy time for our Year 11 students and there are many exams taking place. Your son may also have more than one examination in the same day, which is a perfectly normal occurrence.

May Half Term Revision Sessions and Saturday Sessions

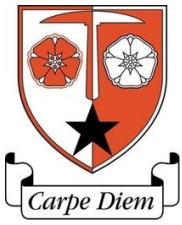

As in February and Easter, the school will be open for revision sessions in the May half-term break. The details of this, and our (possible) additional Saturday offer, are currently being finalised.

Important to Note

Each year there is time built into the GCSE timetable to provide a contingency should anything that could affect the exam system occur during the published timetable. These periods provide schools and colleges an alternative time to sit examinations that is common to all schools and colleges across the country. Whilst your son may finish examinations on a certain date, it is important that all students must be available on the contingency dates should they need to be implemented. These dates are:

- The afternoon of the 11th of June – after the final maths exam.
- Wednesday the 25th of June – All day.

I will write to you again later on in the month to outline the details for June, but I want to take this opportunity, from all staff here at Audenshaw School, to wish your son the very best for his upcoming examinations.

Many thanks for your continued support.

Kind Regards,

Mr P Murphy
